MILLION DOLLARS FOR SUGAR FACTORY

Official announcement came last week of the intention of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company to erect a beet sugar factory at Raymond, south of Lethbridge, on which $1,000,000 will be spent. The factory will have a capacity of 1,000 tons of beets daily and will employ about 250 hands. The company states that other sugar factories will be erected in Alberta as demand warrants. The coming year's beet crop is expected to reach 100,000 tons.

ALBERTA DEPARTMENT'S HENS DO WELL

The pen of White Wyandotte hens cycled by the Provincial Department of Agriculture and entered in the sixth egg laying contest conducted by the experimental farm at Lethbridge, is leading all other contestants with a wide margin. At the week ending February 13, the Alberta Department's pen had a total score of 582 for the contest, the next nearest ranking pen being that of T. Edwards of Edmonton with a score of 494.

INDIANS PLAN CELEBRATION

The Blood Indians in Southern Alberta are laying plans for an all-Indian celebration to be held at MacLeod June 30th to July 4th.

W.C.T.U. Hold Memorial Meeting

On the evening of February 17, a Francis Willard Memorial meeting was held by the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Berscht. An interesting program, just a little different than the usual order was given, each member responding to roll call by a quotation or some incident of the life of Miss Willard. Rev. W. B. Dengis gave a concise report of the Prohibition Convention recently held in Calgary and Mrs. E. Reitzel an interesting paper on "The W. C. T. U., a World Power, and Why." A play entitled "Our W. C. T. U. Neighbors" was rendered by a number of members, showing the work of helpfulness in the Canadianization of all foreigners, which is carried on by the W. C. T. U. Several of our young friends added much to the enjoyment of the evening by singing solos, duets, and instrumental solos and duets while the ladies' quartette gave one of their pleasing numbers. There were eighty-seven members, their husbands and friends in attendance and the offering for the Francis Willard Memorial Missionary fund amounted to $13.50. Also a number of new honorary members were secured, swelling the number to fourteen.

Altogether a very profitable evening was spent and we trust a new interest for the work was created, both among active and honorary members, due to the efforts of our untiring President, Mrs. H. Reiber.

Of Interest to Curlers

The Mitchell Cup again returned to town on Wednesday after a hard struggle on Tuesday night at Red Deer. Freeman skipping the veteran rink with McGhee, Julian and Watt, beat Fulton of Red Deer 14 to 11 while Huget handling the green rink composed of Chapman, Dr. Liesemer and Edwards, won their game 23 to 10 against Munn of Red Deer. There is great satisfaction at being able to bring the cup back from its home town to Didsbury where it is now on display in Mr. Huget's.

An interesting curling meeting was held at the rink on Monday night and a considerable amount of business gone through. The details of the bonspiel were completed and it was decided to make a mixedspiel and give the ladies a chance for some playing. This meant an increase in the number of rinks and necessitated the election of four new skips, who were: J. M. Dougall, D. Shepard, J. Kirby and S. Watt. There will be about three events to be played off and there will be three draws an evening, 6, 8 and 10 o'clock in order to keep it going properly.

At a skips meeting on Wednesday a redraw of rinks was made for the bonspiel. There will be twenty rinks entered.

Two rinks journey to Calgary on Thursday as challengers for the MacDonald trophy. This trophy has spent most of its time on the east line and south and the boys are wished the best of luck in their efforts to entice it up here.

The rink which attended the Edmonton bonspiel, consisting of Studer, Shepard, Samis and Miller skip returned this week. Although they were not successful in getting into the jewelry they won several of their games and report an excellent time.

ALBERTA'S EXCELLENT BOND SALE

The best price realized by the Alberta Government for an issue of Alberta bonds, since before the war was paid last week, when an issue of $750,000 highway bonds, 15 years, 5 per cent, was sold to A. E. Ames and Co., Toronto, through H. M. E. Evans of Edmonton at 99.63, yielding 5.035 per cent. There were seven tenderers for the bonds.

NEW YORK INTERESTS BUY GAS CO

New York financial interests, which already control the North-western Utilities Company, supplying natural gas to Edmonton City, have now acquired the interests of the Calgary Gas Co., which supplies gas to Lethbridge and Calgary. The New York firm securing these interests is the International Utilities Corporation. Sir Clifford Sifton and Eugene Coste have relinquished their stock in the Calgary company to the New York Syndicate.

NORMAL STUDENTS PAY BACK LOANS

Normal students receiving temporary loans from the Provincial Government to aid them in pursuing their studies, have met their obligations in excellent manner, according to announcement by Hon. P. Baker, Minister of Education. The total loaned during the three years since the policy was inaugurated has been $399,718, of which all but $69,314 has been paid back, while $26,476 has been paid in interest in that time.

To Insurance Beneficiaries

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are lost annually through the unwise investment or careless spending of monies received for insurance death claims and matured endowments. A Union Bank Savings Account is the proper place for the deposit of such monies. The funds will then be in safe keeping and earning interest for the beneficiaries.

A Dangerous Campaign

An increasingly aggressive campaign is being waged in different parts of Canada by certain organizations and interests in favor of the adoption by the Dominion Government of a policy of export duties, or embargoes, on a number of Canadian products, and the list of such products is being added to as the campaign progresses. This, too, is inevitable because if "protection" is to be provided in one case, it is promptly demanded by others, and, further, the imposition of export duties on one article insensibly affects other articles and industries.

Canada has for the past forty years experimented with the policy of protective duties on imports, but few people will be found to declare that the policy has proven a success and brought that development of natural resources and industry, that absence of unemployment, that increase in population, and that abounding prosperity which the advocates of high tariff protection claimed for it. On the contrary, manufacturers, artisans, laborers and the great body of the consuming public are all complaining and clamoring for something which tariff protection has failed to give them and can never give them.

The people of Canada are now asked to experiment with the policy of export duties on top of import duties. These export duties will, so the advocates say, develop our natural resources for home use, encourage manufacturing industries, provide employment, increase population, and bring national prosperity. In a word, export duties are going to accomplish what the import duties were to have done and failed to do.

The economic and fiscal programme now being mapped out in these "protective" quarters contemplates higher import duties to keep out of Canada foreign-made articles, and the imposition of export duties to prevent Canadian products going out of the Dominion except in a completely manufactured state.

Among the products, or natural resources, upon which it has thus far been proposed that export duties should be imposed are logs and pulpwood, water powers and the electrical energy developed from the same, nickel and wheat. While import duties are advocated and imposed as against the whole world, the export duties are clearly designed to be imposed against one country only, namely, the United States.

Supposing the United States chose to regard such a policy as an "unfriendly act" and adopted a policy of retaliation. What then? What would happen to the cotton mills of Canada and of Great Britain if the United States imposed a prohibitive export duty on raw cotton as a reply to the Canadian imposition of an export duty on pulpwood? Would Canadian and British industry be benefited, increased employment provided, added population and increased prosperity result?

Or, supposing a reply to a Canadian embargo on the export of hydro-electric power, or an export duty on nickel or logs, the United States imposed a prohibitive export duty on coal, what would be the result to the manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec, not to speak of the average householder and business man?

And, if Canada should practically prohibit the export of wheat to the United States, who could complain if, in turn, the United States proceeded to put a stop to export of oranges, bananas, lemons, raisins, and other articles of food which Canada cannot itself produce?

No man in his senses would propose an export duty on Canadian wheat going to all countries, because Canada must export its wheat. It cannot mill it all into flour, and even if we could and did, Canadians could not consume it, and other countries might well say "if you won't let us have any of your wheat, we don't want your flour." A general export duty on Canada's wheat would simply paralyze the Dominion. It would be a terrible price to pay to further the flour milling industry which, as it is, is growing by leaps and bounds and paying good dividends.

These two neighboring countries, the United States and Canada, are in many respects complements to each other. In regard to certain products they are interdependent. Man, not nature, drew an imaginary dividing line across the continent from east to west, a line which the good sense of both peoples has kept free of bristling cannon and fortifications. Mistakes have been made in the past in the erection of tariff walls between the two countries, and the United States has been the chief offender, but it was Canada who rejected the last overtures in 1911 for greater freedom in trade. It should be the policy of both countries now to lower the existing barriers, rather than to raise them or create new ones. Both countries would benefit from such a policy.

On the other hand, both must suffer from the inauguration of policies leading to retaliatory export duties, and possibly the greatest loss of all would be a lessening of the good feeling now prevailing between the Dominion and the Republic and the engendering of feelings of bitterness and hostility. It is sincerely to be hoped that Canadian statesmen will hesitate a long time before being stampeded into adopting a policy of export duties. Apart from everything else, Canada has not yet reached that stage of development, nor attained that population, where the imposition of export duties are either desirable or necessary.

Wallpaper Two Centuries Old

Antique wallpaper, 200 years old, will be used on the walls of a room being built in the English furniture galleries at South Kensington Museum. The room will be a copy of an eighteenth century apartment and will contain furniture made at or about the time when Queen Anne died. The wallpaper has been taken from a room in an old house in Gloucester, where it has hung for two centuries.

WANTED-INVENTIONS

During the past 14 years we have patented thousands of inventions for clients and placed them before the manufacturers, who are constantly acquiring from us as to new inventions of merit. Recently a client patented an oil can from which he is receiving several thousands of dollars annual royalty. Another client patented a simple plumbing fixture, returns from which should total $25,000. Getting the largest financial return from your invention greatly depends on the attorney employed. Besides our many individual clients, we are retained by many of the largest companies, who realize the importance of having competent and reliable attorneys at Ottawa (where the Patent Office is located) as skillful preparation and personal prosecution is most essential in the obtaining of patents that fully protect. Fortunes have been lost by delay and failure to take advantage of patent protection. May we assist you to turn your ideas into a financial return. Our report as to patentability and commercial possibilities sent (without charge) on receipt of sketches and model, with description. Our Patent Protection booklet tells THE SECRET TO SUCCESS. HER NERVES SO BAD SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

Mrs. Grace Kitchen, St. George, Ont., writes:—"After having a severe attack of pneumonia I was left in a weak and run-down condition. My nerves were so bad I could not sleep nights, and in the day time I had terrible fainting spells, caused by my heart being weak. Finally I got so bad I had to take to my bed for weeks at a time, but one day I read about so decided to try them.

After taking one box I felt a slight improvement. I have now taken five boxes, and have gained 35 pounds in weight. I am now more than able to do all my own housework as well as considerable outside work. I cannot recommend Milburn's H. & N. Pills too highly for those suffering as I did."

Japan Interested In Canadian Sheep

Animals Imported From Canada Have Been Found Satisfactory

The Japanese Government is doing everything possible to encourage the raising of sheep in Japan. Not more than 15,000 to 20,000 pounds of wool have so far been produced in any one year, against the importations of 68,000,000 pounds a year, says A. E. Bryan, from Kobe, Japan, in The Commercial Intelligence Journal. He reports that small numbers of animals have already been imported from Canada, and the Japanese authorities have found these animals very satisfactory and class them as the second best so far received from any country.

The Whaling Industry

The whale industry in British Columbia produces annually about 400 tons of whale bone meal and 900 tons of meat and blood for fertilizing purposes. A small quantity of this is sold as fertilizer in the province and the remainder is exported, principally to the United States.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRIST BEFORE PILATE

Golden Text: He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities. Isaiah 53:5.

Lesson: Matthew 27:11-31.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:1-6.

The Text Explained and Illumined
Pilate Questions Jesus, verses 11-14. Now Jesus stood before the governor. "When the King walked away with his captors he did it because he was willing, not because he was helpless. What a combination runs through his life! Humiliation and glory are always associated—you never find one without the other. He was born a weak infant—yet archangels attended his birth. He submitted to baptism—yet above him were the open heavens declaring, 'This is my beloved son.' He craved water from a woman—yet gave the priceless fountain within the soul. He slept in the boat like a tired man—yet commanded the waves as their Master. He wept at the grave of Lazarus—yet sent his voice into the spirit world to call him back. They came to take a prisoner—he stretched out willing hands. He stands a prisoner at the bar—yet he condemns the judge" (Dr. Griffin W. Bull).

And the governor asked him, saying, "Art thou the King of the Jews?" Can't you see Pilate, with something of contempt and something of pity in his looks, as he put the question to the Prisoner before him—the Man, wearied, deserted, bound—and thought him a pathetic picture of royalty? That Jesus claimed to be the King of the Jews was the accusation made by the Sanhedrin because they wished a political charge, one hostile to Roman supremacy, in order to influence Pilate. "Thou sayest," was Jesus's reply. "One is hardly prepared for such a reply to an equivocal question, and there is a temptation to seek escape by taking the words interrogatively—Dost thou say so? or evasively—You say, I make no statement. Explanations such as are given in John 18:37 were certainly necessary" (Expositor's Greek Testament).

HELP FOR TIRED NERVOUS PEOPLE

Found in the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Are you pale and weak, tired most of the time, out of breath on slight exertion?

Are you nervous, is your sleep disturbed so that rest does not refresh you?

Is your appetite poor, your digestion weak and do you have pains after eating?

If you have any of these symptoms you need the help of such a reliable tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Read what Mr. W. W. Francis, of Calgary, Alta., says of this tonic. "After returning from overseas," writes Mr. Francis, "my whole system was in a badly run-down condition. I became nervous, irritable, pale and lost weight. Of course I was given treatment and recommended many tonics, some of which I took, but with no apparent result. At last I could not even sleep. My sister, who is in England, wrote and urged me to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and I can scarcely say how glad I am that I took her advice. My friends were surprised at my complete recovery, but I assured them it was due entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I now always keep a box on hand in case of emergency."

If you are ailing give these pills a fair trial and they will not disappoint you. Sold by all dealers in medicine or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PROPOSAL FOR AMENDMENT OF THE B.N.A. ACT

Ottawa.—Should the Canadian Parliament have the right to amend the British North America Act, Canada's written constitution? This was a question which held the House of Commons. W. F. MacLean, Conservative, South York, had a motion that the Dominion Parliament should be given such a power instead of amendments coming by way of the British Parliament, as now.

Under Mr. MacLean's motion, the Dominion Parliament would not have the right to pass any amendments affecting the rights of minorities as guaranteed in the B.N.A. Act.

Mr. MacLean urged that Canada should have the same right to amend her own constitution as had South Africa, Australia and the Irish Free State.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, was opposed to the motion. He took the ground that Confederation was a pact between the federating provinces, and, being a pact, how was it possible for the Dominion Parliament, which resulted from the agreement, to arrogate rights to itself without first consulting the provinces?

"The B.N.A. Act," said Mr. Lapointe, "is not only the charter of the Dominion of Canada, it is the charter of the provinces," and all the provinces should be consulted before the charter was amended.

Can Organize Without Charter

Ku Klux Klan Have Obtained Legal Advice on Matter

Toronto.—According to legal authority at the parliament buildings, the Ku Klux Klan can organize and solicit membership in Ontario without a government charter, which has been refused by the Ontario Government. Hon. Lincoln Goldie, provincial secretary, stated that the matter was closed, as far as he was concerned, with the refusal to grant the charter.

It is learned that one application for a charter came from Windsor, where incorporation was sought under the name Sovereign Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of the British Commonwealth.

Canadian Poultry For Europe

Association Will Ask Government Aid to Establish Market

Ottawa.—With the object of building up a market in Europe for Canadian poultry, the Canadian Poultry Record Association at its annual meeting here decided to ask the government for assistance in the shipment of trial consignments of live poultry breeding stock from Canada to Great Britain and Europe during the coming year.

It was the feeling of the meeting that the advertising secured through the success of Canadian poultry at Barcelona and Wembley last year should be taken advantage of.

Pastors For the West

Toronto.—There will be a surplus of ministers in Toronto when the United Church of Canada becomes an actuality. To relieve this situation, it is expected that a considerable number will go to stations in the prairie provinces. Amalgamation of the executive offices of the three uniting churches will also release a few men for pulpit work.

Must Be Kept Out of Politics

Exports of Canadian Wheat To the United States

Ottawa.—Exports of Canadian wheat to the United States during the past four years were given in the House in answer to a question by G. G. Coote, Progressive, Macleod. The figures showed that exports in 1921 were almost double those in 1924. Total exports in bushels in 1921 were 42,324,894. In 1922 they were 16,582,797; in 1923, 16,213,629; and in 1924, 21,228,507.

Deliver Report On German Disarmament

Allies Find Proof That Versailles Treaty Was Broken

The report of the allied military control mission, 50 pages long, on the state of Germany's disarmament, accompanied by 12 lengthy annexes, was delivered at the offices of the allied war committee, presided over by Marshal Foch. Copies of the documents were immediately forwarded to the allied governments.

The absorption of the long and detailed expositions of the commission's operations will require a great deal of time, it is said in official circles.

Most of the discoveries cited in the documents already have been made public, but a mass of new detail is given in the report, which, in the judgment of those who are aware of its contents, will prove abundantly the allied case against Germany.

Home Bank Depositors

Premier Says Government to Recognize "Moral Claim" in Equity for Compensation

Ottawa.—Premier King announced in the House of Commons that the government had decided to introduce this session a measure recognizing "the moral claim in equity for compensation" of the Home Bank depositors.

Premier King did not indicate to what extent compensation would be paid.

Right Hon. Meighen asked if the amount would be included in the supplementary estimates. The premier replied, "you will have to wait and see."

Pensioners In Canada

64,068 Are Now Drawing Pensions From the War

Ottawa.—The total number of pensioners of the Dominion Government as a result of the war, on December 10 last, was 64,068.

Of this number, 44,069 were pensioned for disabilities as members of the C.E.F. Dependents receiving pension numbered 19,999. Of the total number of pensioners at the end of last year, 50,746 resided in Canada, 5,431 in the United States, 7,292 in the British Isles, and 599 elsewhere.

Must Improve Dairy Products

Change Is Necessary To Meet The Keen Competition

Ottawa, Ont.—That unless something is done to improve Canadian dairy products for home consumption the people of Canada will soon be using New Zealand cheese and Danish butter, was the statement made in the House of Commons by J. W. Kennedy (Progressive member for Glangarry and Stormont).

"Quite right. That is just what will happen," agreed Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture.

Over Million Estimates Approved

Ottawa.—Estimates totalling $1,403,729 were approved by the house. The items follow: Post office department, civil government vote, $1,143,729; agricultural department, dairying, including grant to national dairy council, $230,000; agricultural department, for cold storage warehouses, $30,000.

Mrs. Snowden On Food Price Inquiry

First Appearance On Commission Since Return From Canada

London.—Mrs. Ethel Snowden, wife of Philip Snowden, former chancellor of the exchequer in Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet, took her seat when the royal commission investigating food prices resumed its proceedings under the chairmanship of Sir Auckland Geddes. Mrs. Snowden was one of the government nominees to the commission, but this is her first appearance on the commission since her return from Canada.

Arms Conference Considered

Nothing Definite Yet Says Foreign Secretary Austen Chamberlain

London.—A new armament conference, which the President of the United States would summon, has been mentioned here "in conversations with the American Ambassador, and is at present under consideration." Foreign Secretary Austen Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons in answer to a question by Commander Kenworthy. Questioned further, Mr. Chamberlain begged to be allowed to confine himself, for the present, to the foregoing statement.

Unemployment Figures

Ottawa.—A low level of employment throughout December and early January is indicated in the reports of the Employment Service of Canada. At the beginning of January the percentage of unemployment among members of trade unions was 11.6 as compared with 9.7 at the beginning of December and 7.2 for January, 1924. The employment index number on January 1 stood at $3.9, compared with 90.8 on December 1 last, with $8.7 on January 1, 1924.

War Vessel For B. C. Coast Service

Built at a cost of $150,000 for the British Admiralty toward the close of the war, the tug St. Florence, one of a fleet of "Rescue" type vessels, has been added to the Canadian Pacific British Columbia fleet of 28 passenger ships, freighters, barges, ferries and tugs. The St. Florence is now making her way under her own steam from Leith, Scotland, to Victoria via the Panama Canal.

Being equipped with a steam-towing machine she is especially adapted for the work she will be called upon to do in the company's transfer barge serv-

The Cost to Date of Royal Grain Inquiry

Ottawa.—The cost to date of the royal grain inquiry commission, which has just reported to the government on grain handling in Canada, is $167,606. All the accounts are not yet in, and these are estimated at $2,101, which will make the total cost to the country $169,707. This information was given to Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative, Fort William and Rainy River, by Hon. T. A. Low, minister of trade and commerce, in the House of Commons.

Increase In Family Budget

Labor Department Returns Show Advance For January

Ottawa.—The average weekly family budget of 29 staple foods was $10.77 for January, according to labor department returns. For December last, the budget was $10.58, and for January a year ago, $10.73. A similar weekly budget for January, 1923, was $10.52, and January, 1922, $11.03. The peak for weekly family budgets was reached in June, 1920, when it totalled $16.92.

The wholesale prices index number calculated by the Dominion bureau of statistics showed a substantial advance, being 165.2 for January as compared with 160.9 for December, 1923, and 156.7 for January, 1924.

Endorsed Privy Council

Plan to Establish Supreme Court in India Gets No Support

Delhi, India.—A striking tribute to the respect in which the judicial committee of the privy council is held, was paid in the legislative assembly when for the first time since the beginning of the session the Swarajists voted en bloc with the government in opposing a resolution presented by Sir Hard Singh Gour, the well-known Nagpur lawyer, and first vice-president of the Delhi University, who recommended the establishment of a supreme court in India to dispose of the privy council at London. The motion was defeated by 56 votes to 15.

Pour Liquor Down Sewers

Victoria, B.C.—Destruction of seized liquor held by authorities in various parts of the province was authorized by the government. Some liquor is "bootleg brew" taken in blind pigs, and some is genuine stuff, seized because it did not bear the government seal. Thousands of bottles will be poured down sewers in a general liquor outpouring day, to be named by the officials, in order to eliminate the danger of bad liquor getting on the market.

Would Keep Wilson's Birthday

Washington.—Woodrow Wilson's birthday, December 28, would be set aside as a national holiday, under a resolution offered by Senator Neely (Democrat, West Virginia). It was referred to the judiciary committee.

CANADA NEEDS STRONGER FAITH TO MEET CRISIS

Montreal.—To emerge quickly and triumphantly from the present economic crisis, Canada needs the faith in herself and the spirit of determination and endeavor that saved her during the war, said R. A. Hoey, Progressive M.P. for Springfield, Man., in an address here.

Taking as his subject, "The Present Crisis and the Spirit in Which to Meet It," Mr. Hoey found one redeeming feature in the present Canadian situation. That was "that discouraged agriculturists and depressed business men have become discouraged and depressed and are going through a crisis because of the contribution they made to save civilization from collapse in a former great crisis. But there was an especially depressing feature. That was "the trend in this country toward scepticism and cynicism, not on the part of the average Canadian, but of too many Canadians."

"I know of no easy way out of this crisis," the speaker said in conclusion. "There is but one way—along the path of clean, unselfish living, of determination and endeavor. That was the spirit that saved us in the great crisis and that spirit alone will enable us to emerge triumphantly from the crisis in which we find ourselves today."

Hungarian Settlers

Large Tracts of Land Purchased in Saskatchewan and Alberta

Winnipeg.—Migration of new settlers to Western Canada will soon be in full swing again, according to statements made by railway and colonization officials.

Announcement was also made here that the first contingent under the Hungarian family settlement scheme, sponsored by Aladar De Gedeon, nobleman of Amas, Hungary, would arrive in Canada late in March. Seventy-five families will arrive about March 25, and they will be followed by another party in April.

Large tracts of land have been purchased by the De Gedeon interests at Indian Head, Sask., and at Trochu, Alta., and it is anticipated that 150 Hungarian families will settle in these districts this year.

Competitions For Stock Judging

Offer $500 Prizes For Agricultural Contest in Saskatchewan

Saskatoon.—Judging competitions with $500 worth of prizes will be staged at the Saskatchewan College of Agriculture, March 11, 12 and 13 in connection with the short course in bacon hogs and market lambs.

There are five competitions for judging live hogs, wool, market lambs, swine carcasses and lamb carcasses, with prizes totalling $100 offered in each event. Each agricultural society in the province is entitled to enter one member in the course and in addition the Swine Breeders' Association will nominate 30 others. Lectures and demonstrations will be given by various experts.

House Will Consider Canada-U.S. Treaties

Two Coming Up For Approval Before Dominion Parliament

Ottawa.—Two treaties concluded between Canada and the United States will come up for approval before the Dominion Parliament this session. One is the treaty to limit smuggling and the traffic in drugs along the international border. This was signed in Washington, June 6. The other is a treaty signed in Washington, January 8, to enlarge the list of extraditable offences. In each case Premier King will move that the treaty be approved.

Scales Highest Peak In Andes

Buenos Aires, Argentina.—Mount Aconcagua, the highest peak in the Andes, towering 23,290 feet above the sea level, has been scaled by M. P. Ryan, an English railway engineer, who had made two previous unsuccessful attempts to conquer the peak. This summit has been reached by only two other climbers.

Canadian Big Game For Austrian Alps

Here are seen some fine specimens of mountain sheep, photographed near Banff, Alberta. Inset, a mountain goat giving an idea of the fine game or camera trophies these big game animals provide.

At Banff railway station recently a small official gathering bade goodbye to six worthy members of Nature's Own Alpine Club. They had never before been passengers although from their lofty home in the Canadian Pacific Rockies they had watched and heard the trains that day by day shuttle smoothly to and fro on the world's greatest highway. In deed so close to the railway track did they oft times venture that the people in passing trains had the unique pleasure of seeing these hardy mountaineers ascending and descending the cliffs and crags of their native haunts.

For they were the famous "Big Horns," the wild sheep of Canada's great mountain region. Lodged in upholstered crates, accommodated in a roomy Dominion Express car, they were consigned to a large estate high up in the Alps of Austria where they will have liberty to roam in a congenial environment and where, it is hoped, they may in course of time multiply and become as abundant as the flocks that feed on the Alpine meadows near Lake Louise and that wander upon the sunny slopes of Yoho Valley.

Count Hohenloe, an Austrian nobleman who had travelled in the Rockies and who had seen the wild sheep of that section, believed that given opportunity they would easily become acclimatized and would thrive well in the highlands of his native country. Anxious to put his theory to the test he entered into negotiations with the Canadian Government and succeeded in securing two rams and four ewes for export to Austria.

In the Canadian Pacific Rockies where "Big Horn" sheep are increasing enormously in numbers there is yet a great plenty of other large game animals. The territory westward of and convenient to Lake Windermere Camp is noted for Grizzly Bear. A comparatively short trail journey northward from Lake Louise brings one into a region where white goats clamber on the cliffs and crags. In the open valleys south of Banff there are many elk and moose a-browsing. Too, out there the Spray Lakes sparkle in the sunshine, the finest trout water in Nor' West Canada. And whether you hunt with rifle or with camera the sportsman will find trophies worth the winning in this vast and unspoiled land of sportsman's lure.

FEED POTASSIUM IODIDE TO SOWS AND EWES TO PREVENT HAIRLESS PIGS AND GOITERED LAMBS

In some seasons losses from hairless pigs and goitered lambs and calves have been very heavy, with considerable losses from weak foals. It has been found that these troubles are caused very largely through lack of sufficient iodine in the system of the pregnant mother. By feeding potassium iodide the amount of iodine in the thyroid gland of both mother and young animals can be largely increased, and the loss of the young animals from these causes almost entirely prevented.

After a long, cold winter with deep snow, like the present one heavy losses of young pigs, lambs calves and foals may be expected but can be largely prevented. The deep snow prevents the pregnant animals taking exercise and getting access to the soil. Exercise is always beneficial, and the soil seems to be a regulator for the system. It is probably for these two reasons that there is seldom any trouble with fall pigs, calves and foals and much less trouble with late lambs. Another drawback of the deep snow is that many animals are either eating snow, or drinking only snow water, and while the water from many wells contains sufficient iodine for the requirements of live stock snow water does not contain any iodine.

The feeding of potassium iodide is an almost certain preventative of losses from hairless pigs, goitered lambs and calves, and a great help with foals, though weakness in foals may be due to many causes. After this long, cold winter with deep snow heavy losses are almost certain if potassium iodide is not fed. Feeding potassium iodide requires very little extra work. It is not expensive, and the saving of one litter of pigs, or one calf or lamb will many times over pay for the cost of the potassium iodide and the labour of feeding. Potassium iodide should be carefully and regularly fed through out the whole period of pregnancy but satisfactory results have often been secured where it was fed for only a part of the period; commence feeding at the earliest possible date.

For Sows

Dissolve one ounce of potassium iodide in one gallon of water, and mix in the feed one tablespoonful of this solution once a day for each brood sow.

For Ewes

Dissolve five ounces of potassium iodide in as small a quantity of water as possible. Spread 100 pounds of dry salt as evenly as possible on a clean floor and sprinkle the solution of potassium iodide evenly over it. When dry place the salt where the sheep may have access to it at all times. For a very small number of ewes the iodine may be administered by dropping 30 drops of tincture of iodine on the skin of the ewe every two weeks during pregnancy. The wool should be parted carefully and the fluid dropped on a different place on the skin each time. This is slightly cheaper than the potassium iodide treatment.

For Pregnant Cows

Feed the potassium iodide on the salt in the same way as for ewes, but it may be found that some cows take very little salt. In this case give the cow a quarter teaspoonful of finely powdered potassium iodide once each week in the feed.

For Pregnant Mares

Give each mare, once each week, in the feed a half teaspoonful of finely powdered potassium iodide.

Tourists Stop Where Morgan Sacked

Round America, from Vancouver and return by Canadian Pacific is a travel inauguration which promises to become an interesting and popular tourist feature. The giant "Empress of France," recruited from the Atlantic fleet of the company sailed from New York, January 14th, and after visiting the gateway ports of the older world she will, on May 3, arrive at Vancouver, having stopped at Victoria en route. Here she will spend a day and pick up many passengers who desire to take the trip around America or who chose this admirable means of reaching New York. The first stop will be made at

Here an Empress is seen forcing her way through the Panama Canal. Below, a group of Panama Mermaids who entertained the Empress of Canada round-the-world cruise passengers last year.

San Francisco where, in the famous Rose Room of the Palace Hotel, a dinner dance will be given the passengers on the evening of arrival. The celebrated 30-mile motor trip will be taken next day, and with sight-seeing and shopping, time will be very well taken up until the hour of sailing. May 16 will be spent at Balboa, the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal.

There is no more historical or romantic spot on earth than the isthmus which divides the two oceans. Here came the adventurers after the Spanish gold, and the ruins of old Panama, sacked by Morgan, about seven miles from the city, bear witness to desperate struggles and deeds of daring. Both Balboa and Drake saw the Pacific ocean from an elevation on the isthmus. Panama City adjoins Balboa. It is a typical picturesque Spanish-looking city, founded in 1673, after Morgan destroyed the old city. May 17 and the ship proceeds to Miraflores and enters the lock for elevation to Miraflores Lake. Then to Pedro Miguel, continuing through the famous Culebra or Gaillard Cut, and so on to Gatun, finally docking at Colon where a few hours are to be spent.

Havana is the last port of call before reaching New York, where the Empress is scheduled to dock May 23. The round-America trip is attracting a great deal of attention and many Canadians propose to take advantage of it.

One hundred British farm families are due to reach British Columbia early next spring. These are the fore-runners of 3,000 families that are to come out to settle in Canada on the land. Provincial and British Government assistance is being given them to get started.

A remarkable statue modelled entirely in ice is to be seen at Quebec. It represents one of the latest or 2300-type locomotives of the Canadian Pacific Railway, about one-fourth full size and is perfect in every detail. Ice statuary has been brought to a fine art in the Ancient Capital.

Skaters from New York, Boston, Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa will compete with Quebec champions in a great international amateur figure skating contest, to be held in Quebec city February 23-24, for handsome trophies and medals donated by the Frontenac Winter Sports Clubs. A record attendance of spectators is expected.

Skiing parties over the week-end are being conducted by the Laurentian Winter Club in different points in the Laurentian Mountains, the tours being superintended by a competent skier. To those remaining in Montreal the big six-chute toboggan slide on Mount Royal has an added attraction in toboggan races every Saturday, winners receiving prizes.

A Romance of the Spanish Main CAPTAIN BLOOD RAFAEL SABATINI

Copyrighted, 1922, by Rafael Sabatini

"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitaphone picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, is wrongly condemned and sent as a slave to the Barbadoes under orders of King James. There at the behest of Arabella Bishop, niece of the military commander, he is purchased by Bishop. A Spanish galleon, under command of Don Diego de Espinosa y Valdez, bombards the city and captures it. Blood saves Mary Trill and Arabella. He leads his fellow rebels-convict on board the ship and captures it. When Don Diego returns he takes him prisoner also and announces the ship as his prize. Colonel Bishop goes aboard the ship when the firing ceases and Blood holds him as hostage until safely out of port. Blood orders Don Diego to sail for Curacao, but the Spaniard betrays him and sails the ship under the very guns of Don Diego's brother's ship. Blood and Don Diego fight and the Don is overpowered. Blood ties Don Diego to a cannon's mouth and forces his son to consent to help make peace with the Spaniards by telling them all is well on the Cinco Llagas.

"If you please, Don Miguel, but that is the very thing you must not do—the very thing Don Diego does not wish you to do. For the truth is that his wounds are not so grave as to have prevented his coming. It was his consideration of himself and the false position in which you would be placed if you had direct word from him of what has happened. . . . Blood paused a moment. "What you hear from us is no more than a mere rumor. Your excellency understands.

His excellency frowned thoughtfully. "I understand . . . in part," said he.

Captain Blood had a moment's uneasiness.

"And we have in the boat below two chests containing fifty thousand pieces of eight, which we are to deliver to your excellency."

"Not another word, in the name of Heaven!" cried the Admiral in alarm. "My brother wishes me to assume charge of this money, to carry it to Spain for him? Well, that is a family matter between my brother and myself." He broke off. "Hum! A glass of Malaga in my cabin, if you please," he invited them, "whilst the chests are being hauled aboard."

And whilst sailors carried on board the two chests, the Admiral and Captain Blood exchanged toasts that damned eternally the besotted James who occupied the throne of England. At the end Don Esteban timidly urged:

"My father is in haste to reach San Domingo. He desired me to stay no longer than necessary to embrace you. If you will give us leave, then, sir uncle."

In the circumstances "sir uncle" did not insist.

MISERABLE AND ALWAYS IN PAIN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Help for Mothers

Port Greville, Nova Scotia.—"I took your medicine for a terrible pain in my side and for weakness and headaches. I seemed to bloat all over, too, and my feet and hands were the worst. I am the mother of four children and I am nursing my baby—the first one of four I could nurse. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before the baby's birth, so you can see how much it helped me. I cannot praise it too highly for what it has done for me. I took all kinds of medicine, but the Vegetable Compound is the only one that has helped me for any length of time. I recommend it to any one with troubles like mine and you may use my letter for a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT McCULLY, Port Greville, Nova Scotia.

Before and after child-birth the mother will find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a blessing.

Many, many letters are received giving the same sort of experience as is given in this letter. Not only is the mother benefited, but these good results pass on to the child.

No harmful drugs are used in the preparation of this medicine—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

98 out of every 100 women reported benefit from its use in a recent canvass among women users of this medicine. C

As they stepped into the waist of the Cinco Llagas, Hagthorpe advanced to receive them. Blood observed the set, almost scared expression on his face.

"Don Diego . . ." he was beginning, and then stopped, and looked curiously at Blood.

Noting the pause and the look, Esteban bounded forward, his face livid. "Have you broken faith, you curs? Has he come to harm?" he cried—and the six Spaniards behind him grew clamorous with furious questionings.

"We do not break faith," said Hagthorpe firmly, so firmly that he quieted them. "And in this case there was not the need. Don Diego died in his bonds before ever you reached the Encarnacion."

Peter Blood said nothing. "Died?" screamed Esteban. "You killed him, you mean. Of what did he die?"

Hagthorpe looked at the boy. "If I am a judge," he said, "Don Diego died of fear."

Don Esteban struck Hagthorpe across the face at that, and Hagthorpe would have struck back, but that Blood got between, whilst his followers seized the lad.

"He died before I left the Cinco Llagas," said Blood. "He was hanging dead in his bonds when I spoke to him before leaving."

"If I had known that," the lad said at last in a thick voice, "you would be hanging from the yard-arm of the Encarnacion at this moment. But you'll hang there yet."

Captain Blood shrugged, and turned on his heel. But he did not on that account disregard the words, nor did Hagthorpe, as they showed at a council held that night in the cabin.

This council was met to determine what should be done with the Spanish prisoners. Considering that Curacao now lay beyond their reach. It had been decided that, going east of Hispaniola, and then sailing along its northern coast, they should make for Tortuga, that haven of the buccaneers. It was now a question whether they should convey the Spaniards thither with them, or turn them off in a boat to make the best of their way to the coast of Hispaniola, which was but ten miles off. This course urged by Blood was determined.

CHAPTER XIII.

Tortuga

At daybreak Don Esteban and his followers were put off in a boat. Two days later, the Cinco Llagas sailed into the rock-bound bay of Cayana, which nature seemed to have designed for the stronghold of those who had appropriated it.

It was Blood's original intention to make his way to France or Holland. But in the long weeks of waiting at Tortuga for a ship to convey him to one or the other of these countries, his resources dwindled, and finally vanished. Also, there was a good deal to oppress Peter Blood. There was the thought of Arabella Bishop. He was maddened by the tormenting lure of the unattainable. He desired Arabella, yet knew her beyond his reach irrevocably and for all time. He was, when all is said, an escaped slave, an outlaw in his own land and a homeless outcast in any other. There remained the sea, which is free to all, and particularly alluring to those who feel themselves at war with humanity. And temptations proceeded not only from adventurous buccaneering acquaintances in the taverns of that evil haven of Tortuga, but even from M. d'Ogeron, the governor of the island, who levied as his harbor dues a percentage of one-tenth of all spoils brought into the bay, and who profited further by commissions upon money which he was desired to convert into bills of exchange upon France.

Moreover, to a man, those who had escaped with Peter Blood from the Barbadoes plantations, and who, consequently, like himself, knew not wither to turn, were all resolved upon joining the great Brotherhood of the Coast, as those rovers called themselves. And they united theirs to the other voices that were persuading Blood, demanding that he should continue now in the leadership which he had enjoyed since they had left Barbadoes, and swearing to follow him loyally whithersoever he should lead them.

If he resisted so long, it was the thought of Arabella Bishop that restrained him. And so, although he might entertain no delusive hope of ever winning her for his own, of ever seeing her again, yet the memory of her was to abide in his soul as a bitter-sweet, purifying influence.

The resolve being taken, he went actively to work. Ogeron, most accommodating of governors, advanced him money for the proper equipment of his ship, the Cinco Llagas, which he renamed the Arabella. To the score of followers he already possessed he added three-score more, picking his men with caution and discrimination (and he was an exceptional judge of men) from amongst the adventurers of Tortuga. With them all he entered into the articles usual among the Brethren of the Coast, under which each man was to be paid by a share in the prizes captured.

Towards the end of December, when the hurricane season had blown itself out, he put to sea in his well-found, well-manned ship, and before he returned in the following May from a protracted and adventurous cruise, the fame of Captain Peter Blood had run like ripples before the breeze across the face of the Caribbean Sea.

One day, as he sat with Hagthorpe and Wolverstone over a pipe and a bottle of rum in the stifling reek of tar and stale tobacco of a waterside tavern, he was accosted by a splendid ruffian in a gold-laced coat of dark blue satin, with a crimson sash, a foot wide, about the waist.

"C'est vous qu'on appelle Le Sang?" the fellow hailed him.

"My name," he said, "is Peter Blood. The Spaniards know me by Don Pedro Sangre, and a Frenchman may call me Le Sang if he pleases."

"Good!" "My name," he informed the three men, two of whom at least were eyeing him askance, "it is Levasseur. You may have heard of me."

They had, indeed. He commanded a privateer of twenty guns that had dropped anchor in the bay a week ago, manned by a crew mainly composed of French boucan-hunters from Northern Hispaniola, men who had good cause to hate the Spaniard with an intensity exceeding that of the English. Levasseur had brought them back to Tortuga from an indifferently successful cruise. A roaring, quarrelsome, hard-drinking, hard-gaming scoundrel, his reputation as a buccaneer stood high among the wild Brethren of the Coast.

It was current gossip that even Mademoiselle d'Ogeron, the governor's daughter, had been caught in the snare of his wild attractiveness, and that Levasseur had gone the length of audacity of asking her hand in marriage of her father. M. d'Ogeron had shown him the door.

This was the man who now thrust himself upon Captain Blood with a proposal of association, offering him not only his sword, but his ship and the men who sailed in her.

Because he disliked the man, Captain Blood would not commit himself at once. But, because he liked the proposal, he consented to consider it. Being afterwards pressed by both Hagthorpe and Wolverstone, who did not share his own personal dislike of the Frenchman, the end of the matter was that within a week articles were drawn up between Levasseur and Blood, and signed by them, and, as was usual, by the chosen representatives of their followers. These articles contained the common provisions

British Capital For Canada

Realize the Need of Opening Factories in the Dominion

The necessity for serious consideration of establishing branch factories in Canada by certain British trades was fully realized, F. W. Field, senior British trade commissioner in Canada, said in speaking to the Canadian Press at Montreal.

Mr. Field expressed the hope that within the near future larger sums of British capital would be invested here, with general benefit to Anglo-Canadian trade.

Scientist Has New Idea

Claims Origin of Languages Was Signs Of Zodiac

A new ship was launched recently on the seas of archaeology when Edward C. Getsinger, astronomer and searcher of antiquities, asserted he was able to trace the origin of 29 written languages to the signs of the zodiac.

His findings, Mr. Getsinger declared, proved that astronomy was a religious science familiar to the more intelligent classes of the ancient world upwards of 12,000 years ago; that the Bible, by means of zodiacal symbols, now may be made to reveal many secrets, religious and historical, which hitherto have been locked books; that Israel has a history going back 6,500 years into a period when its high priests, as revelers of the mysteries of the heavens, were more advanced in some branches of astronomy than the stargazers of today, and that there have been fundamental errors in the rendering by Egyptologists of some of the earliest inscriptions found in Egypt.

"Our country's greatest economic need today is more balanced industries, the creation of internal exchange of goods by the development of more varied industries, a happy condition which we never can fully enjoy until we can set in motion the long chain of industries having their starting point in the minerals in the earth's crust," Dr. Corless said.

Adopt Novel Method

Sink Oil Test Well In City of Medicine Hat

Something novel in the way of oil development will be attempted as the result of a plebiscite taken at Medicine Hat, which authorized the closing of a contract with C. E. Roth, of Oklahoma, to drill a 3,200-foot test well in the city.

The municipality will purchase natural gas to the extent of $75,000 from the well within the next ten years, providing oil is not struck. If the well is a commercial oil producer, the city receives the gas free of charge and turns over $,000 acres of lease to Roth, receiving five per cent. royalty on all oil from this and future wells, as well as the natural gas by-product at three cents a thousand cubic feet.

MADE HER BABY PLUMP AND WELL

Nothing makes a mother more grateful than a benefit conferred upon her child. Mothers everywhere who have used Baby's Own Tablets for their children speak in enthusiastic terms of them. For instance, Mrs. Zephierin Lavole, Three Rivers, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones. They never fail to regulate the baby's stomach and bowels, and make him plump and well. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all mothers to do likewise." Most of the ordinary ailments of childhood arise in the stomach and bowels, and can be quickly banished by Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets relieve constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, allay teething pains and promote healthful sleep. They are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs and are safe even for the youngest and most delicate child. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

In making a goose nature requires a lot of quills, but a man can make a goose of himself with only one quill.

Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and fretting of the child. Success With Corn

By Jas. D. McGregor, Glencarrock Stock Farms, Brandon, Manitoba Part 3

Corn, to make good silage or fodder, should also be practically mature—past the roasting ear stage, the better feed it will make. This generally means, in this section, that we have to leave our corn uncut until the danger of heavy frosts comes on. We find that frosts that early only nip the leaves do not do any great damage to the corn and it will continue to mature. At times though it is a question as to just how much frost would make it advisable to cut the corn. This largely depends on when the frost occurs. We often have our first frost about the first of September and then the weather will warm up and there will be no more for perhaps another two weeks or more. This extra two weeks means a lot to the corn crop. So we generally figure that if the corn is fairly mature at the time of the first frost we go ahead and cut it and start filling the silos. If the corn was green and immature and the early frost only nipped the leaves, and it looked as though there would be no more frost for some time, we let it stand and chance that the further maturing of the corn will more than offset the damage done by the frost. If a heavy frost does come and the corn is killed down to the ear so that the top and leaves would soon dry out and blow away the corn should be cut without any delay and stooked or put into the silo as soon as possible. We have been caught this way and found it necessary to put another shift on to the binders in order to get the corn cut with little loss.

Corn which is cut on the green side should be allowed to lie on the ground for a day or so before putting it into the silo or stook. Drying the corn for a short time this way makes sweeter silage than when silaged too green. If stooked too green there is some chance of it moulding in the stook.

If a farmer has but a small patch of corn it may be cut by hand. The grain binder will handle corn of medium height quite satisfactorily. If a large amount of heavy corn is to be cut it pays to have a corn binder. The bundles should be made rather small which makes them easier to handle.

There is some difference of opinion as to the size to make the stooks. We prefer a fairly large stook made up of about 40 bundles. If the corn is to be left in the field until fed. In making these stooks we use a sort of "stooking jack" which consists of a 2x2 pole about 6 feet long, sharpened at one end and with a cross piece at the top. This is thrust into the ground and two men place the bundles around it. This is then moved after a start has been made. When finished, the bundles should be firmly compressed together towards the top by running a light rope with a ring on the end of it around the stook and then tie with binder twine. A stook put up in this manner will stand indefinitely with very little waste.

In order to overcome the difficulty of getting the corn out of snow covered stooks, the corn when well cured and before the snow comes may be hauled in and put into stacks. These stacks should be built fairly narrow and a layer of straw or hay put in between every layer of bundles. They can also be run through a cutting box, mixed with green feed or straw, and blown into the loft.

Rum Smugglers Active

Britain Has a Bootlegging Problem on Her Hands

Great Britain has a bootlegging problem, says the Westminster Gazette, which may necessitate the adoption of special measures. The trouble arises from the fact that the price of spirits in France is only about half that in Britain, where the duty is very high. This encourages smugglers to run contraband spirit across the English Channel in small motor boats and land them on unfrequented parts of the English coast, whence they are taken to London and other large cities in motor lorries. These ventures are financed substantially and bring big profits, according to the paper.

Canadian Power Defends Chinese Villagers

Now what on earth has power development at Shawinigan Falls got to do with Chinese village life? you ask. The answer is that it helps to protect Mr. Chinaman, Mrs. Chinaman and all the little Chinamen from bandits. Yes! it's a long cry from the waters of the St. Maurice Valley to the interior Chinese village, but there you are. And it came about thus. A harassed Chinese head-man driven to desperation and from his native village by badmen from the hills, came down to Hong Kong, or perhaps it was Shanghai, and down by the dockside saw men of his race working by night as if by day on the unloading of one of the giant Canadian Pacific Empress steamships. What wonderful things were these that could so defy the darkness? Chung Li drew closer, and saw that at intervals along the shed in which the stevedores were working much light came from little cans that glowed softly in the breeze. Now everyone knows that electric lights are the invention of the devil and were introduced by the white races to burn the eyes of Chinese babies and shorten the life of Chinese men. Therefore, as Above is a view of the power development plant at Shawinigan Falls, Quebec. The power generated here is used, indirectly, in the defence of the Chinese villages, typical ones of which are shown below. On the left, off to the market town. Inset, a partial explanation of the enormous rice consumption of this country.

Chinese men were working in the light, it could not be electric. Chung Li drew closer. If he could learn the secret of these bright, white lights what an honor would be his. He would place them round his village at night and no one could draw near without the knowledge of his men. He would confer with the other head-men of the district. And so it came about that the Canada Carbide Company, which uses the power developed at Shawinigan Falls to fuse coke and lime into carbide, received an order for many flare lights. A deputation of the villagers made a long journey to Hong Kong to receive the shipment as it was discharged from the Empress of Russia, and returned, knowing that as long as the carbide hung out they were comparatively safe from the marauding bandits. There you have the connection. Shawinigan Falls lighting a Chinese village and protecting it from bandits.

Rugby W. I. News

The Rugby Women's Institute held a very successful Whist Drive and Dance at Rugby on Friday evening. The Whist Drive was most ably supervised by M. August Krebs. Mrs. W. F. Brown was the winner of the ladies' prize and Mr. Alvin Plougher of the gentlemen's prize while the consolation went to Mr. Ira Loney.

A bountiful lunch was served after which the "Home Orchestra" provided excellent music for dancing. The genial Mr. Robin managed the dance programme in his usual capable style.

On Monday the Institute members met at the home of Mrs. Orin Swingle to spend the afternoon with one of their members who is leaving shortly to reside in California. Mrs. Swingle had arranged a very unique program of contests which she carried out so successfully that everyone thoroughly enjoyed it. Never before had the R. W. I. known that they possessed such talented artists, such gifted poetesses and such well controlled nerves.

A very dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Wiegand after which Mrs. McNair was invited to come forward while Mrs. Parker in a short speech expressed the regret of the R. W. I. in losing one of their oldest and most industrious members and asked her to accept on behalf of the R. W. I. a small gift which was presented by Mrs. W. F. Brown and all joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mrs. McNair made a very fitting reply and invited all to visit her in California.
